

Notarization

Do you require your valuable documents to be notarized or certified as true originals? Do you need to have a written statement to be signed in front of a lawyer so that it can be used as if it were evidence presented in a court of law and presumed to be true and accurate? Or do you need a witness to your signing of a document who will verify your identity when signing and have that document be relied upon by others as a document duly signed by that person? Iven K.S. Tse can notarize your documents, draft solemn declarations or affidavits such as those used for proving insurance claims, proving service of documents, or appointing guardians for your children, and witness your signatures on important documents that need verifications of your identity. Contact us to how we can assist you in your notarization needs.
