

Family and Estates Law

Family Law

Separating from your spouse and unsure about your rights and entitlements regarding spousal support, child support, custody, access and guardianship over the children, or property division? Getting married or planning on cohabiting with a romantic partner and worried about the entitlement of the other partner to claim support or division of your assets? Iven K.S. Tse has been providing practical and effective legal advice to couples facing these issues during the course of their relationship with understanding, compassion, and expertise. Whether the solution is in drafting a separation agreement, preparing a pre-nuptial agreement, processing a divorce claim, or consulting with both parties about their concerns, Iven K.S. Tse can help. Please complete the attached questionnaire and contact us if you find yourself in any of these situations and need some sound advice.

Estate Law

Wondering about how to distribute your assets to your family and other dependents hassle free and as cost efficiently as possible? Worried about probate fees and shielding your assets from potential claims against the estate? Needing a way to ensure that your parents or grandparent's choices for health care options are respected? We can help. With Powers of Attorneys, Representation Agreement, Wills, Family Trusts, and more, Iven Tse can build and tailor legal and practical solutions to your estate planning needs.

Thank you for helping me through a difficult time. I really appreciate your professionalism and efficient service
– M.G., Family Client, Vancouver